MINERVA VALLEY WIRELESS UPDATE

When good things are coming they seem to take longer than we want. We are happy to report that our wireless service is right on schedule. The week of September 18 we will begin burying cable to the tower sites. Construction bids on the towers themselves are also due the week of September 18, which means we are getting closer to actually breaking ground on the towers.

Our staff has not yet been formally trained on the cell phones and plans that will be offered, but we will be happy to answer any and all questions you may have at this time. If we do not know the answer we will find it out and get back to you. If you have Internet access you may also go to www.iwireless.com to find out the plans, phones and coverage that will be available. Minerva Valley's website, www.minervavalley.com also has a link to the iWireless website.

It is our goal to provide our customers with excellent wireless telephone service. We believe we will be able to provide a valuable local link with this service. When you contact our office you will receive fast, friendly service from a local human being...no recorded messages or prompts to "dial for this or that".

PROUD TO SERVE YOU FOR 50 YEARS

When the St. Anthony Cooperative Telephone Association and the Zearing Telephone Association joined together to form Minerva Valley Telephone in 1956, with Clemons Mutual Telephone Company joining in 1957, the Board of Directors most likely never imagined the changes that would take place by the company's 50th anniversary. In the big scheme of things, 50 years really isn't a long period of time, but those 5 decades have been packed full of changes and advancements for this small independent telephone company.

The late 1950's and the 1960's brought construction of a new commercial building and a dial-equipped central office. More than 700 customers across a 20-mile area switched from hand crank, magneto phones to a modern dial system.

In the mid 1970's, the company completed the underground cable system. Digital central office equipment replaced the dial system in 1979, eliminating party lines and offering touch-dialing service to the customers.

During the 1980's the changes that occurred were more behind the scenes. The business office began using computers to keep track of customer billing and accounts, calling features such as call waiting and speed dialing became popular and most businesses began using fax machines for correspondence. Many customers switched from rotary dial phones to touch tone.

When the 1990's hit things began happening at a rapid pace at Minerva Valley. The main office building in Zearing was remodeled and expanded and a parking lot was added. Cable television was added to the company's services and the Internet became a household word. It was no longer just businesses that had computers and fax machines, many residents now had them too.

The arrival of the new millennium has brought about still more changes and advancements. Digital Cable TV has been added to offer the customers more choices. Wireless telephone service is soon to be a reality and a new central office switch is about to be installed.

Although Minerva Valley has seen many things change in our 50 years of business, one thing remains constant: Our customers have always been and will always be the most important part of our business. We take this small opportunity to THANK YOU for allowing us to proudly serve you, and we look forward to at least 50 more years of doing business with our wonderful communities!
